

ENVIRONMENTAL, WASTE WATER, BIOGAS PROJECTS

FREW
PROCESS GROUP

A DIVISION OF A.B. YOUNG COMPANIES

We understand the demands of finding and qualifying product suppliers for the environmental, process projects that are your specialty. We have been in the distribution business in the Midwest market for many years. You need dependable suppliers who offer quality and high-value products for measuring, controlling and ensuring safety of the processes you design.

The Frew Process Group, which is part of AB Young Companies, has been assisting engineers and contractors for more than 60 years with product selection, sizing, application...and after-sale support. We not only have the products but also the technical knowledge to assist with low pressure biogas systems, safety devices and instrumentation for these processes.

We want to personally introduce our company and our quality to you. We'll be calling you soon in the hope we can set up a brief meeting to get acquainted. I assure you that we will respect your time and ensure that we'll work to add value to what you're doing.

Thank you in advance for your considerations.

Respectfully;
Larry Rose, Sales Manager
